Summary: After Makarov was killed and the Russians were 'defeated'. They rise up again and not soon after Shadow Company does to. As the Task Force 141, Marines, Delta Force, and Rangers fight to prevent World War IV.

1. Prologue

Hello. The reason I'm making this story is because I thought that we need MW4 so I thought, why not? I hope you enjoy and if you want a new character in the story tell me! (This will have Price, Ramirez, 'Frost', ect.)

"... After the attacks in France, United States, and Germany they slowly start to rebuild. In France they start plans on the second Eiffel Tower. Happily the Russian threat has decreased intenselyâ€|" (TV shuts off)

Price: "They say it's over but just because one man's dead doesn't mean another can rise."

Nikoli: "What do you mean Price?"

Price: "I'm saying the Russian's are still a problem."

Nikoli: "Da. I see. So what we do then?"

Price: "We wait till shit goes looseâ€|"

U.S. Alaskan Radar Base

U.S. Special Forces

Sgt. Peters

"Is the scope clear Private?" I said.

"Yes sir. Good to see no Russian activity for once!" Private said as he looked at the computer.

"Good. I'll report to the Captain." I said taking out my walkie talkie. "Captain the scope is clear."

"Perfect! Everything's nice out here to, no sign of anyâ€| wait."

"What Captain?"

>"I'm heading back to base I see something in the sky it's a helicopter and it's coming your way!"

"Got it we'll prep, good luck Captain! Out."

"Okay men prepare a possible enemy helicopter is coming are wayâ€|"

"Sir, the radars picking it up. It's hostile, I repeat it's hostile."

"Got it Private everybody prepare!" I said grabbing an M4A1.

I ran outside as the helicopter landed in the tundra and soldiers busted out and opened fire.

"Taking fire!" Said Private.

"Stay close to me, I forgot this was your first gunfight."

"Yes sir!"

As I pushed farther with my team we only had one casualty, sadly a younger man. As we got closer to the helicopter it starting taking off but instead in starting firing at us and the building. Then it shot out 2 missiles that blew up the building in a few seconds. After that we lost all communications with command. A minute later a man with a RPG shot it at the helicopter we all watched as it hit the ground with a big bang.

We all stared at the burning rubble and I said, "We have to wait till command picks us up they know something went wrongâ€|"

2. Chapter 1: Ghosts Never Die

This a chapter showing, what if Ghost lived? He wasn't burned because Shepard dumped the gasoline only Roach.

Ghosts Never Die

Simon "Ghost" Riley

I woke up stunned and confused I had a bullet wound in my ribs and I tried to stand up but I hardly could. I looked to my right and there was a burned body I looked and it and screamed. "What the hell! Where am I?" I said standing up slowly. I looked around I was in a field. I looked behind me and I saw a house in the distance. So I started limping there.

It took like 20 minutes because I was wounded. When I got to the house I saw trucks. I thought I could drive them to civilization but I needed to grab some things. So I went in the house and walked into the kitchen I grabbed some food and I went to the bedroom and found a sleeping bag. Once I was packed I hopped in the truck and drove to civilization.

It took about 2 hours then I got to a small town and I rented a hotel till I found out what was happening. I looked at my wound but it was getting better and healing. After I checked I turned on the TV it was the news. "... the attacks on the U.S. have gone down after the defense of Washington DC. But Makarov is stillâ€|" I stopped listening and thought about that name, Makarov, Makarov, Makarov. It sounded familiar but I couldn't figure out who it was. I guess I just have to make life work here for a while.

1 year laterâ€|

I was eating dinner and watching the news and I wasn't paying much attention till I heard, "...Makarov has been killed by a British soldier named John Priceâ€|" John Price? Captain Price! Then I thought for a while and my memories came back. I'm Ghost, I was going to kill Makarov but Shepard betrayed us but only killed Roachâ€| How do I get to Price? Then I grabbed the phone and gave my old friend a call.
